HE ADMITS SHOOTING

Antone Carvalho admits that he was the man who shot and mortally wounded Magnus Folkward early Sunday morning. He was arraigned in the police court yesterday morning on a charge of murder in the first degree, and the case was set for hearing on July 9. The coroner's inquest to have been held last evening at the police station failed to materialize, the County Attorney telephoning that he had something else to do then and the jury would have to wait. Finally the coroner adjourned the inquest until this evening.

According to the police Carvalho is said to have admitted that after having a fight with Folkward in the tenement house on the steps of Punchbowl near the Pauoa bridge, he went home and secured a revolver and returned to the tenement intending to shoot Folkward. He entered the house and going to Mrs. Opeka's room he fired two shots at Folkward as he lay on a bed. He immediately left the place, and what he did with the revolver is in question. It has not yet been found, although search was made for it on Sunday.

Folkward clearly identified Carvalho as his assailant, while he was in the Queen's Hospital. He said that the man wore a Panama hat. Carvalho had come in his hand when he entered the room of the victim. He was told to put the hat on his head. This done, Folkward had no hesitation in saying he was the man who had shot him and with whom he had had a previous quarrel.

The victim, who was about 35 years of age and had a wife and several children living in Norway, was buried yesterday afternoon at Pearl City.

Dr. Judd, who made a postmortem examination on the body of Folkward on Sunday found that the abdominal wound had made frightful havoc in the cavity, especially in the liver, and the intestines had been perforated four times.

Carvalho was catcher for the H. A. C's during the 1904 league season.

Judge Lindsay discharged David Dayton as garnishee in the suit of Kekipu against Kamalo Sugar Co.

After today the Supreme Court will probably hold only occasional sessions during the summer vacation.
